Presents

The Young Authors' Fair

Saturday, March 14, 2026, 1:00-3:00 pm

Beale Library Information Area

Free & open to the public

- Student created books on display.
- Each student who creates and displays a book will be recognized with a Young Author participation sticker.

- Author Claire Noland will give a presentation for children on her books and writing. Claire is the author of picture books, early readers, and magazine stories for young children. Her debut picture book, Evie's Field Day: More Than One way to Win has been honored with many awards and was named to the New York Public Library's best picture book list. Her most recent book is Nancy Bess had a Dress.

Schools wanting to display books should visit www.kernreadingassociation.org and click Young Authors' Fair to send in a registration form. Book displays must be set up the night before on Friday, March 13, from 3:00 to 5:00 and require pre-registration.
